

Hi friend,

I begin by expressing my thanks to you for praying as I have tried to understand the Hinduism and Buddhist religions; my efforts to interact personally have not worked out. I believe my expectation was influenced by the ease in which this had worked well within Muslim communities. I do believe I have been able to build the needed groundwork for my teaching through reading ancient and current books. Also I have been able to interact some with those who have worked among these religious people groups. Hopefully personal relationships will come in time.

Prayer:

1. That my stories from the Scriptures will be appropriate for our different target groups.
2. For our incoming group of students at Global Frontier Missions as they arrive at the beginning of January.
3. To build good rapport with my students which encourages questions and discussions.

I am excited about starting up again.

Suzanne and I pray that December would be for you a rich time of celebration of our Lord's birth.

In Christ,

Bill and Suzanne
